Awha ma I said to myself as I was trying to think of a goal I would like to achieve in life. After thinking to myself for a whyel I decided id I would like to become a doctor.

The reaison I would like to become a doctor is because I would love to save lives for aliveing. Also because if I were a doctor I would be able to work with children and day long. I love children because I babie sit all the time for my brothers & sisters.

Another reaso I would like to become a doctor is because my sister Tina is a doctor and she loves it. She worked really hard to become a doctor and when I went to visit her she was saying how it only took her 4 years to become a doctor and learn every thing she knowes. She also was telling me how much fun & hard work, 2 was becoming a doctor. She said if I work really hard and do my bes on every thing I will become a doctor if I put my mind to it. She also said she would help me learn every thing I will need to know to become a doctor. One more thing she said was ~~I still need~~ it would be a lot of hard work to become a doctor.

Some of the things I would need to do to become a doctor is work really hard, ~~put~~ put my mind to it, get really good grades, and go to all diffrent kinds of schools,

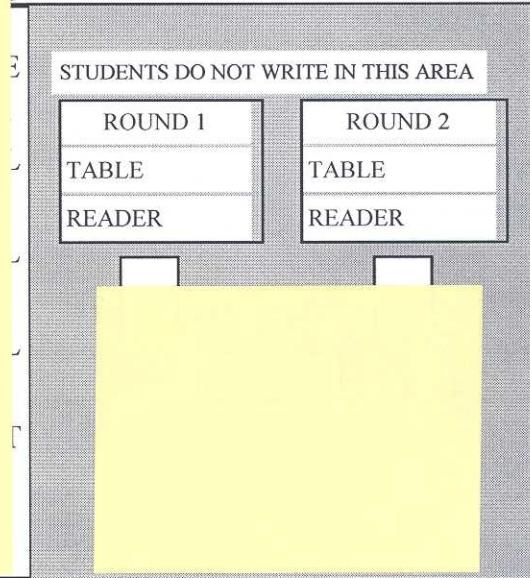

Those are the reason I would like to become a doctor. All my friends & family think I can do it if I work really hard. So my sister is going to help me become a doctor.

My goal in life is to get a good education and to graduate from high school. This is important to me because if I graduate from high school then I have choices like going to college, getting my drivers license, or to find a job. What I would do to achieve it getting good grades is getting good grades and doing my work. Every night do my homework and pay attention in class.
